

William Hill English Organ

Berlin, Germany

Hill Organ, Burton (England) - Berlin (Germany), ca. 1860-1870

This organ was built in the 1860s by William Hill (1789-1871; an apprentice of Thomas Elliot) originally for St. Paul's Church in Burton, England. It was later moved and installed in the Trinity Methodist and United Reformed Church in Burton-upon-Trent in 1896, where it wowed worshipers and music lovers alike there for 150 years. Due to dwindling resources and attendees, the church closed and the organ found a new home in St. Afra church in the German capital of Berlin in 2015.

Choir	Great	Swell	Pedal
Gedact 8	Bourdon 16	Bourdon 16	Resultant Bass 32
Viol d'Orchestre 8	Open Diapason 8	Open Diapason 8	Open Diapason 16
Aeoline 8	Open Diapason Small 8	Rohr Flute 8	Violone 16
Stopped Flute 4	Stopped Diapason 8	Salicional 8	Bourdon 16
Nazard 2 2/3	Gamba 8	Voix Celeste 8	Echobass 16
Piccolo 2	Principal 4	Vox Angelica 8	Principal 8
Tierce 1 3/5	Harmonic Flute 4	Gemshorn 4	Viola 8
Larigot 1 1/3	Twelfth 2 2/3	Suabe Flute 4	Bass Flute 8
Orchestral Oboe 8	Fifteenth 2	Fifteenth 2	Choral Flute 4
Clarinet 8	Mixture III 8	Mixture III 8	Trombone 16
Tuba (G.O.) 8	Trumpet 8	Double Clarinet 16	Tromba 8
	Tuba 8	Cornopean 8
		Oboe 8
		Clarion 8	